INT. SUBWAY STATION

Peter/Susan was in a fight with some bullies from his class. His brother Edmund/Lucy helps break up the fight. They go and sit on a bench nearby.

EDMUND/LUCY

You're welcome.

PETER/SUSAN

I had it sorted.

EDMUND/LUCY

What was it this time?

PETER/SUSAN

He bumped me.

EDMUND/LUCY

So you hit him?

PETER/SUSAN

No. After he bumped me, they tried to make me apologize. That's when I hit him.

EDMUND/LUCY

Really? Is it that hard just to walk away?

PETER/SUSAN

I shouldn't have to. I mean, don't you ever get tired of being treated like a kid?

EDMUND/LUCY

We are kids.

PETER/SUSAN

Well, I wasn't always. (pause) It's been a year. How long does he expect us to wait?

EDMUND/LUCY

I think it's time to accept that we live here. It's no use pretending any different. (he then sees the annoying kid coming his way to talk to him) Oh, no. Pretend you're talking to me.

PETER/SUSAN

I am talking to you.

EDMUND/LUCY

Ouch, don't pinch me!

PETER/SUSAN

I didn't even touch you!

EDMUND/LUCY

Look, can you just-

Peter interrupts him, looking around at the Subway shaking and the wind blowing really hard.

PETER/SUSAN

Wait! Do you feel that?

EDMUND/LUCY

It feels like magic!

Suddenly the Subway station dissolves and they are on a beautiful beach. They are in NARNIA.

EXT. SUBWAY STATION

PETER/SUSAN

Yes! I knew we'd be back!

Edmund is looking around and suddenly sees some ancient ruins to the side.

EDMUND/LUCY

Look!

PETER/SUSAN

Woah, it's lovely. What is it?

EDMUND/LUCY

Wait, where do you suppose we are?

PETER/SUSAN

Well, where do you think genius.

EDMUND/LUCY

I know, I just... Well, I don't remember any ruins in Narnia.

They look at each other with uncertainty but ready to explore.
